

Colorado Notes

LAST ONE – The Eagles take on the Chicago Wolves of the AHL’s Central Division today in the fourth and final game of a four-game season series. The Eagles and Wolves are squaring off in four consecutive contests, with Colorado having collected four of a possible six points through the first three meetings. The Wolves have been led this season by All-Star forward Justin Robidas who has 20 goals and 24 assists, while fellow forward Bradly Nadeau has 18 goals and 24 assists and was the AHL’s Player of the Month in January. The Eagles are 1-1-1 against the Wolves at Allstate Arena.

NEW HEIGHTS- Defenseman Wyatt Aamodt notched a season-high three points against Chicago last Saturday, netting a goal and two assists in the Eagles 6-2 win. Aamodt’s 16 assists and 19 points have both established new career highs, as he is just three goals short of equaling the six tallies he generated during the 2023-24 campaign. In addition, the fourth-year pro is tied for second in the season series against Chicago, having registered four points in three games against the Wolves. Aamodt is coming off a 2024-25 season that saw him amass four goals and 13 helpers.

TERRIFIC TRIO- Colorado’s line of Tye Felhaber, Jayson Megna and Alex Barre-Boulet have combined for five goals and five assists in three games against Chicago. Barre-Boulet’s 47 points not only lead the Eagles but are also good for fifth among all skaters in the AHL. Meanwhile, Megna continues to lead the team with 21 goals and comes into today having generated 15 goals and nine assists in his last 23 games. Finally, Felhaber, who has collected two goals and one assist in three games against the Wolves, is currently tied for second in the AHL with three shorthanded goals on the season.

JACK ATTACK- Defenseman Jack Ahcan scored the game’s first goal in Colorado’s 3-2 OT loss last night, now extending his point streak to six games. Ahcan leads the Eagles blueliners in goals (6), assists (27) and points (33), having generated his 33 points (6g/27a) in just 35 games. Those 33 points are also tied for third among all AHL defensemen. He has posted points in 16 of his last 19 games, amassing four goals and 20 assists in that span. The sixth-year pro is also among the team leaders with 12 points via the power play and his +21 is tied for first on the team.

ROLLING ALONG- Goaltender Kyle Keyser stopped 35 of the 38 shots he faced in the Eagles 3-2 OT loss last night, and now owns a record of 8-1-1, bolstered by a 1.49 goals-against average, .943 save percentage and two shutouts. Keyser has won eight of his last nine starts and has only allowed more than two goals on two occasions. The 26-year-old, who spent last season in the KHL, played five seasons in the AHL with Providence and collected a career-best 13 wins with the Bruins during the 2022-23 season.
